

Overview

Here's an easy technique for seaming garter cast on and/or bind off ends that doesn't require any grafting. It's a step-by-step process with consistent results and no tapestry needle required.

It combines two common techniques, the 3 Needle Bind Off with a Knit 2 Together Bind Off in an easy to work technique that mimics garter on the front side and has a nice clean look on the back.

A new twist for some old techniques

- ▶ 3 Needle Bind Off: This technique also uses 3 needles, combining live stitches from 2 needles onto a third. What's different? It's worked on the right side so it shows.
- ▶ K2Tog Bind Off: This is worked as k2tog, return to left needle and repeat. The same idea is used here resulting in the nubby stitch that mimics garter stitch.

You can also watch a video tutorial on our YouTube Channel. You can link here or search for Laura Cunitz.

#1: Last row before bind off is a knit row. The bind off creates a line of bumps similar to garter. 	#2: Put live stitches on 2 needles with wrong sides facing. Bind off worked on right side. 	#3: Pass 3rd needle through 1 st on front needle and 2 sts on back needle.
#4: Knit the 3 sts tog. The 2 sts on the back needle are the k2tog and ... 	#5: ... knitting those 2 sts with the front stitch is part of the 3 needle bind off. 	#6: Place st on the back needle, pull snug & repeat. When there is only 1 st on each needle, k2tog. 